STATE LEGIONNAIRES TO LEAD NATIONAL PARADE THIRD YEAR

Telegram From Jackson to Local Post Conveys Intelligence of Success.

Mississippi leads again. Ed. P. Ortle, leading light in Legionnaire activities for this section, received a telegram this week from Wilkes H. Davis, department commander, Jackson, Miss., stating that "Mississippi wins for third consecutive time, defeating Georgia, the nearest competitor, one hundred and sixty to twenty-eight per cent, Arkansas third, Oklahoma fourth."

"Congratulations to you, the people of your community and members for the fine record of your post." This means Mississippi will lead the parade of the national convention for the largest gain in membership during the past year.

Mississippi led last year the New York parade, Governor White attending, and it was a fine showing and honor for the men from Mississippi and the State.

Mr. Ortle of the local Clement Bontemps Post for Hancock county is equally jubilant with the balance of the State and naturally proud of the showing his State is making.

BAY ROTARY HOLDS REGULAR MEETING; HEAR SPEAKERS.

President-Elect Jesse Gray Tells of Attending District Meeting at Meridian.

Bay St. Louis Rotary Club, with President Rene de Montluzin, Jr., in the chair held its regular Wednesday meeting at Hotel Reed, with a goodly attendance.

President-elect J. W. Gray told of his trip to Meridian where he attended district meeting of International Rotary, in which clubs of two States participated, and told of the high spots of the deliberations and of the social programs. He told of the value of attending such meeting and of the benefits he had derived therefrom.

C. G. Moreau was the speaker for the week and told of "Bay St. Louis Yesterday and Today," reminiscent of the past and contrasted the city as it was in the 90s and today. There were some amusing incidents told in addition to the history and progress of the city. He told how old files of The Sea Coast Echo carried a long story of how Mr. Chas. A. Breath, Sr., had made a trip by auto to Pearlport and back in one day! Another was how the city had adopted and published an ordinance prohibiting automobiles from the public streets because they were dangerous and frightened horses.

The story of Bay St. Louis Then and Now was a most contrasting one and proved interesting, it was said after the meeting.

LAKESHORE RESIDENT GOES UNDER KNIFE.

Ethel Ladner, young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Ladner, residents of Lakeshore area of the county, underwent an operation for appendicitis at King's Daughters Hospital at Gulfport, Thursday of last week, and her condition reported satisfactory.

At the monthly meeting of the Bay-Waveland Club held Tuesday night at the Hotel Reed, Mrs. H. M. Rollins of Gulfport, addressed the Club on the subject of wild flowers of Mississippi. Her address was instructive and well received. Few people know that we have so many wild flowers in our coast counties of such variety and color unless they are students of nature and botany.

The following resolution was adopted: "Whereas the W. P. A. has a beautification project in this county, and whereas this project applies to grounds of public buildings, and whereas this subject can easily be extended to cover additional territory. Therefore, be it resolved that the Bay-Waveland Garden Club petition the government authorities to add the beautification of the Beach road, or front driveway, to this project, and furthermore, that this Garden Club offer and extend its cooperation."

Mrs. J. N. Stewart and Mrs. Harry Pond were appointed a committee to submit the sentiments of this club to the state supervisors for approval. Every club member is heartily in favor of the beautification of the scenic route along our water front. Bay St. Louis will then equal any city of its size in offering a treat to all visitors.

For the summer months members of the Garden Club will meet on the second Tuesday of each month out of doors. The first meeting will take place on June 13th at ten a. m., in the garden of Mrs. M. W. Briggs. All members are requested to take notice of this change.

OUR MUNICIPAL GAS SYSTEM.

CONSIDERABLE number of subscribers to the Bay St. Louis municipal gas plant service are reported and it is expected this number will continue to increase.

There should be a general and widespread patronage to the system since it is owned by the tax-payers and every bit of patronage in the aggregate will redound to the city's benefit.

A clamor for gas has been registered for years and the insistent demand by the few has brought fruit to the many who, in time, will enjoy the unusual benefit of gas for domestic purpose.

It appears as an earnest of our appreciation of the fact that the city administrators have finally succeeded in providing for gas service for this city that its citizens should not hesitate nor withhold their patronage.

Seemingly to us it is a patriotic duty to our city and, in a measure, we, who have clamored so long and dreamed of the day when the seemingly impossible should become a reality, should now be equally appreciative if not grateful and show such sentiment in a substantial way.

Our people have never failed to rally in any cause. This is a public one—definitely our own, and there will be, no doubt, in due time, many more subscribers. We should qualify our minds and sense of reasoning to the effect that we owe to our city every support possible.

LITTLE FAIR GROUNDS.

RECENTLY opening of a public athletic field on the shortcut highway in Bay St. Louis, popularly known as the Little Fair Grounds has received public acclaim and instantly springs into success.

The fact is that so successful has this enterprise proven inasmuch it attracts many hundreds of people to Bay St. Louis every Sunday that otherwise would not visit, that a movement has well started to build a grand stand.

There should be no trouble in realizing the necessary funds to consummate the proposition. It is possible that a thousand or more people will congregate here every Sunday afternoon to view the different contests presented.

Fancy horse flesh is exhibited weekly and new entries from afar add to the success of the enterprise and to the interest of the public-spirited citizens who have made the Little Fair Grounds possible.

Our chief asset is to bring people to Bay St. Louis. We must have attractions to do so. The outdoor sports are appealing to every being and this instance is no exception.

The Sea Coast Echo hopes the success of the Little Fair Grounds will continue and that the present manifestation of interest will be the forerunner for greater and bigger things.

More power to the promoters and more success to the Little Fair Grounds.

BIG FAIRS AND LITTLE ONES.

THE nation now boasts two splendid world fairs, one in California and the other in New York.

The Federal government is represented at both expositions by handsome structures, which cost considerable money.

These world fairs are creditable enterprises but they are not the only fairs that will operate in the United States this year. Soon there will begin a procession of "county fairs" that will move from one end of the nation to the other.

In most of these county, or community fairs the United States government will not be represented. Personally, we see no reason why the government should spend five or ten million dollars to participate in two large expositions and then not spend a part of that amount to make available to smaller fairs something to represent the government and at the same time educate or instruct the people that visit the smaller fairs.

NEW YORK WORLD'S FAIR.

MISSISSIPPI will share in the publicity being given the New York World's Fair, according to a request received by Walker Wood Secretary of State, from Thos. R. Gardiner, president of Exposition Publications of New York City. A page in the publications will be devoted to Mississippi and will contain pictures of the Governor and of the New Capitol, a reproduction of Mississippi's Coat of Arms, and a color print of the Magnolia, the state flower. Only 1,000 copies of the publication will be printed and presented to each executive, the Library of Congress at Washington, and principal public libraries.

A PRINCESS GETS AN AUTO.

CROWN Prince Frederik and Crown Princess Ingrid of Denmark, who have recently visited the United States, inspected the huge automobile plants of Detroit and were, no doubt, charmed by the generosity of the industrialists who presented them with two brand new automobiles.

There will be those to insist that no American couple can inspect the plants in Detroit and get away with two automobiles as a gift. They will be absolutely correct but, just the same, it was nice of the automobile folks to give the presents to the royal couple from Denmark.

The busy man usually finds time to go fishing or play golf.

Never tell people you will do anything unless you mean to try and do it.

COMMENCEMENT DAYS.

WITH the advance of May Month commencement days are at hand and soon the entire country will be interested in the youth of the land ready to march forward into the world—each, in time, to fill a particular niche in the scheme of things and to begin the journey down life's pathway.

Our own schools, and this community is an educational center, will soon send forth a galaxy of boys and girls who have diligently pursued their studies and prepared themselves for greater things and ultimately for achievement aimed.

Naturally we are proud of our schools, they are among the best in the land; duly accredited, affiliated and accepted as the best. Their product turned out annually not only verifies this but conclusively proves.

St. Stanislaus College will soon graduate another large class of young gentlemen who will leave their alma mater thoroughly versed in the academic scientific and commercial studies to which they have applied themselves with the aid of competent corps of instructors. Our St. Joseph Academy too, will send forth a competent class. Young women who will shed glory on their alma mater.

Bay High School this year will produce the largest class in its history, thirty-four in number. They, too will leave well versed in the studies embraced.

With advanced and increased curriculum young people meet with strict and wider demands. This is no disparagement on the boys and girls of yesteryear. But conditions have changed, we live twice as long and do several times more within a given period than formerly. This is a rapid age and we must be equipped to meet the exacting demands. There is much competition in the life of today. And woe to the young man and woman who is not equipped by training and educational development to meet the situation.

The Sea Coast Echo salutes the youth graduating from our college, convent and high school. They have accomplished their long travel of years through the halls of learning, they have acquired much and the hope is expressed that they will make the most of this impregnable armor with which to battle the world.

ROOSEVELT AND PAT HARRISON.

FRED SULLENS, erudite and well informed editor of the Jackson Daily News who practically commutes between the State capital and the National capital so frequently does he journey to Washington, says that frequently this question is asked in Washington and also in Mississippi:

"Is Pat Harrison at outs with the President?" The answer is: Politically—yes. Personally—No.

FDR and Pat are still good personal friends and the Mississippi statesman is always cordially received at the White House.

But, insofar as the fundamental principles of the New Deal are concerned, more particularly the financial program, the President and Pat have parted company. They simply don't think alike.

Senator Harrison has told the President, not once but several times, and in very plain English, that this nation can no more spend its way back to prosperity than an individual can drink himself sober.

There can be no reduction or revision of taxes, says Senator Harrison, until Federal spending is curtailed. To curtail that spending by refusing to provide the money therefor is the job of Senator Harrison's finance committee.

And on that point the biggest fight of the current session of Congress will be predicated.

A HEALTHY SIGN.

IT is a healthy sign when a community shows evidence of building on every side and that the people who do the actual construction are busily engaged.

Building activity in the Bay-Waveland area is active, if not all of the competent master and common labor is employed. It is not so easy, we are told, to get a builder and ask that he immediately go to work. The answer would be that he is busy, possibly has a job or contract and that for the present would defer acceptance of patronage.

The casual observer sees much signs of building activity and the demand for more and better houses will in time make for an acute shortage of such service.

Real estate people tell The Echo there is a sharp demand for houses—for rent and for sale and unless the supply for better and modernly-equipped houses is not forthcoming there will be a condition of concern.

Bay St. Louis is well supplied with firms selling building material, amply so. There is nothing in the building line that cannot be supplied at home. This is quite an advantage. Material available at the very demand and at prices always consistently with the market is something we must not lose sight of.

In all the outlook is encouraging. And the hope is expressed that the march of building will continue and should we reach the saturation point the hope is further expressed that new elements will create an additional field for expansion.

NEW TIRE FACTORY.

THE March edition of the Manufacturer's Record publishes a most interesting article on the New Monolithic Factory being built at Natchez, Mississippi, where the Armstrong Tire and Rubber Company will manufacture automobile tires. The structure in addition to being the largest factory in Mississippi, and is the first monolithic concrete factory of the Z. D. Type to be erected in the South. The factory is two stories and is approximately 160 feet by 760 feet in size.

SHIPS 3000 CARS VEGETABLES.

IN connection with the Tomato Festival to be held at Crystal Springs on June 8th and 9th Crystal Springs has issued a very interesting folder advertising the Tomatopolis of the world, stating that Crystal Springs ships 3,000 car loads of vegetables annually, including cabbage, peas, beans, tomatoes, Irish potatoes, sweet potatoes and pepper.

Hollywood Notes.

RENE DUNNE, John Wayne and Edward Ellis will play in a picture called "Pennsylvania Uprising," which will be based on the novel, "The First Rebel." It is the story of the Rebellion by Pennsylvania settlers when they protested the British trade policy with the Indians in 1759.

Raymond Hatton has signed a contract and will be featured as comedy lead in the "Three Mesquites" series.

Walter Pidgeon has replaced Robert Montgomery in "Stronger Than Desire" because Mr. Montgomery will be in London playing in "Earl of Chicago," or "Busman's Honeymoon," both of which are to be made in England as soon as possible.

The man who played Prince Albert in "Victoria Regina" and who is now appearing in "Outward Bound" on Broadway, has been signed by Warner Bros. for the role of Sir Walter Raleigh in "The Knight and the Lady," which costars Ruth Davis and Errol Flynn. His name is Vincent Price and he is under contract to Universal to make 12 pictures during the next five years.

The names of the cast and the shooting schedule of "Hail, America" is to be kept a secret by Paramount.

Fred Stone is to return to the screen in an adaptation of Edna Ferber's "Old Man Minick." It will be entitled "Not Wanted."

This summer Walter Edmond's "Drums Along the Mohawk" will be made in color. Henry Fonda and Nancy Kelly will have the leads.

Zazu Pitts is to appear in two pictures soon. She will be featured in "Dawn" and "Stand Up and Sing."

Joan Bennett made a flying trip recently to New York to appear in a radio broadcast, "Black Daniel." She immediately flew back to the Coast to go on with her work in "The Man in the Iron Mask."

John F. Hamilton, who created the role of Candy in "Of Mice and Men," will have one of the leading roles in "The Hunchback of Notre Dame."

Selznick is anxious for Vivien Leigh to play in "Rebecca" but Vivien says she won't unless Lawrence Olivier plays opposite her. In case Mr. Olivier refuses the part Joan Bennett may get the title role.

There are lots of stories coming out of Hollywood now-a-days which are concerned with heaven. There are "East Side of Heaven," "Halfway to Heaven," "Backdoor to Heaven," "All This and Heaven, Too," "Heaven On a Shoe String" and "Heaven."

Bert Wheeler, who played in pictures and on the stage with Robert Woolsey for twelve years, is back again in pictures. He stayed away from the screen during the long illness of his partner but at last he is starting again in a straight part, as something of a hill billy in "Lighthouse Harry."

I WEAR A ROSE FOR MOTHER.

My garden gleams with roses rare,
They fill with fragrance all the air.
My heart is dancing with delight
Among my roses, red and white.

I break a bloom of radiant red,
For you I find another.
Upon my breast, this rose shall rest,
I wear a rose for Mother.

I thank the Lord that I may choose
A rose of richest, reddest hues.
I thank the Lord that Mother knows
I wear for her this winsome rose.

My Mother is as sweet and fair
And fragrant as a flower.
God give me grace to flood her face
With gladness every hour.

Her hands, the day that I was born,
Began to pluck away each thorn
That menaced me; and till she goes,
For every thorn, she'll find a rose.

I want to bring my roses, too,
To bloom along her way.
For her dear sake, I want to make
Each day, a Mother's Day.

For every heart that waits and weeps
Because a sainted mother sleeps,
Within my lovely garden grows
For every one a spotless rose.

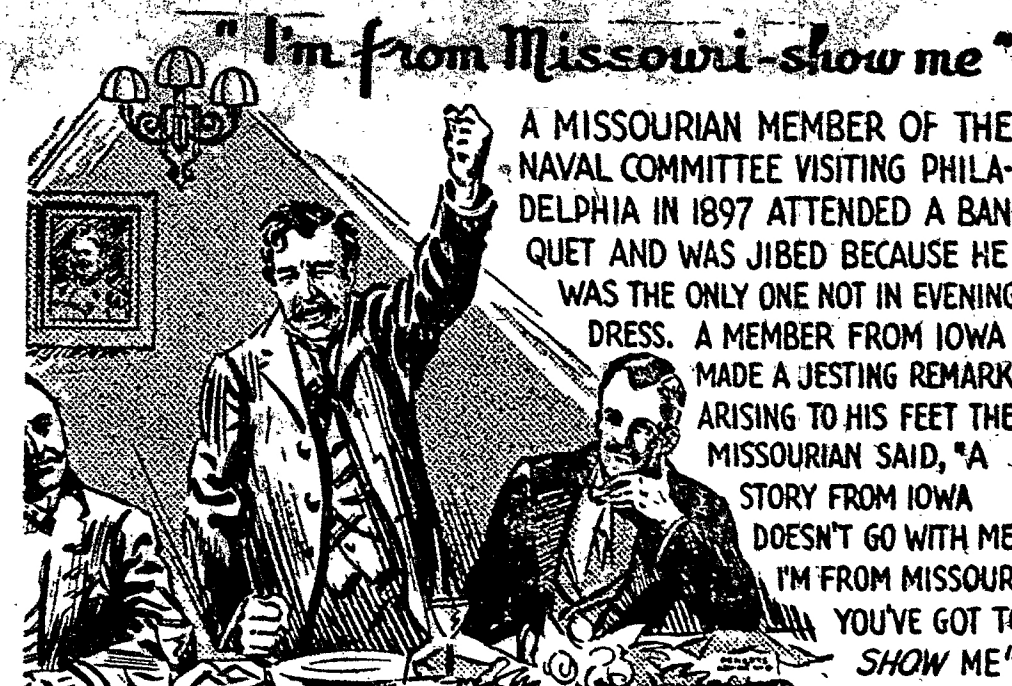

This pure white rose I pluck for you
To wear for your own mother.
She is not dead, the Master said,
O, Sister mine, O, Brother.

She lingers there beside the gate
With those she loves, to watch and wait.
Her happy eyes shall see with joy
The white rose of her girl or boy.

My garden grows with many a rose,
My heart shall blossom, too.
Love's fairest flower, each day, each hour,
Mother, I'll wear for you.

A GARDEN OF GARDENS.

(Columbus Commercial-Dispatch)

DOWN at Natchez they are planning the most elaborate and most pretentious garden the world has ever known.

It will surpass the splendor of the Hanging Garden of Babylon created by Nebuchadnezzar.

It will be "The Garden of Gardens," dedicated to God.

Since the beginning of time there has never been a garden dedicated to the Creator.

What could be more appropriate than to dedicate a garden to Him who has given us the sunshine, rain, trees and gorgeous flowers to enjoy during our existence on the earth?

The Natchez country, therefore, is to be commended for its ambitious plan to create a great garden, greater than any garden on earth, and dedicated to God.

The Garden of Gardens will be laid out in a 600-acre tract with five acres along the Boulevard of the States. Here the 48 states will be given representations, and there will also be a Federal Boulevard.

The Garden of Gardens would be the greatest nature attraction in the country, if not in the world.

It would bring thousands of people to Mississippi.

Movement should have the encouragement and active cooperation of the entire state.

Its development would have an important bearing on the pilgrimages to be inaugurated in Columbus in 1940.

Mississippi is destined to become the mecca for the people of America who love nature and its beauties and who love tradition and history and romance.

A Greenville paper carried this news item. "A Heaven and Hell party was held for the benefit of the Disney A. M. E. church. Those going to Heaven were served peaches and cake . . . those going to Hell played checkers, cards and danced, they were served hot spaghetti. Everybody had a great time."

ELEANOR POWELL, ROBERT YOUNG, BURNS AND ALLEN IN CAST OF HONOLULU.

Dancing, singing, romance and laughs are represented by the top-notchers in their respective fields in the star-packed cast of the new M-G-M musical "Honolulu," which opens at the A. & G. Theater for a two-day showing, Sunday and Monday.

Eleanor Powell, the screen's renowned Queen of Taps, handles the dancing end of the lavish new picture, with the other headliners composed of Robert Young and the inimitable comedy team of Burns and Allen. Prominent supporting parts are filled by Rita Johnson, Clarence Kolb, Jo Ann Sayers, Ann Morris, Willie Fung, Cliff Clark, Edward Gargan, Eddie Anderson, Sig Ruman, Ruth Hussey, Kealoh Holt and Edgar Dearing.

Edward Buzzell, former Broadway musical comedy star, was the director, Jack Cummings, who produced "Born to Dance" and "Broadway Melody of 1938," produced the new musical.

Miss Powell introduces three specialties "Hymn to the Sun," a tap hula, based on the traditional Hawaiian dance; an imitation of Bill Robinson's entertaining stair dance; and a tap dance done with a skipping rope.

Scenes range from Hawaii to Broadway, with some on shipboard, and the musical numbers balance Miss Powell's dances. The work of the noted song-writing team of Harry Warren and Gus Kahn, they include "This Night Will Be My Souvenir," "The Leader Doesn't Like Music" and "Honolulu," the latter sung by Gracie Allen.

The story concerns a screen star, impersonated by Young, who wears out of Hollywood routine and wants to get away for a rest. On a big "opening night" he encounters his opportunity when a Hawaiian planter, who closely resembles him, is mobbed by autograph fiends in the theater lobby.

The actor arranges with the visitor for an exchange of personalities and the chap agrees almost too readily. The deal is made and Young heads for Honolulu, while the planter continues to impersonate the star.

Aboard ship, Young meets Eleanor Powell, a cabaret dancer and, of course, falls in love with her.

Paramount Theater At Gulfport To Show Famous Dramatic Film.

Irene Dunne, who has been associated with madcap comedy characterizations in recent screen offerings, portrays a serious romantic role that stands out as one of the finest performances in her brilliant career in "Love Affair," co-starring Charles Boyer, showing Sunday, Monday and Tuesday at the Paramount Theater, at Gulfport.

As a romantic team, Miss Dunne and Boyer make an ideal pair. The actress plays the part of a lovely, loving beauty, while Boyer is seen as a notorious Continental born vivand and playboy. The pair meet on board an ocean liner bound from Naples to New York where each is scheduled to marry into money.

This common bond draws them together. Their casual friendship suddenly ripens into a warm and genuine romance although neither has anything to offer the other but love. A pleasing interlude on the picturesque Portuguese island of Madeira adds a zestful touch to the story, which traces the development of the tender romance up to their arrival in New York. Here they decide to separate for six months while Boyer seeks work. They give up luxurious prospects of their forthcoming marriages to prove themselves worthy of the great love that has smitten them.

The sacrifices of each goes through coupled with an ill-fated accident to the girl on the day of their long-awaited reunion, provide absorbing dramatic moments. Believing she has been lamed, and torn between her love and what she now considers her duty, the young woman deliberately Boyer to know of her plight—a plight which would make her a burden not a wife.

The story reaches a novel ending, preceded by a refreshing series of dramatic conflicts which heightens the entertainment of the picture.

Two tuneful songs, "Sing My Heart" and "Wishing," are sung by Miss Dunne. Appearing in support of the stars are Maria Ouspenskaya, Lee Bowman, Astrid Allwyn and Maurice Masevich, Leo McCarey directed "Love Affair" for RKO Radio.

Utterly Thoughtless
"You are charged with throwing your mother-in-law out of the window."

"I did it without thinking, your honor."

"We can't have that going on. Suppose someone had been passing underneath, at the time?"

Question For Women

Many women and girls of the South and West are being asked—were you helped by CARDUI? In twelve cities first visited by Reporters, 93 per cent of all the users queried said they were definitely benefited. CARDUI is a good stimulator of appetite and digestion; thus it assists women to build resistance and so helps them avoid pains of functional dysmenorrhea due to malnutrition.

Mother's Day To Be Observed By First Methodist Church.

The Golden Cross is the helping hand of our Church for the sick and distressed. The week of May 14-21 is observed throughout the church as a time to carry information of our hospital work to all the people, and give them an opportunity to assist the sick and aid the distressed.

May this worthy cause be given a place in our minds and hearts. If our people knew the sick would not be neglected. Healing the sick was a major part of the Master's work while on earth. In sending out the twelve, and the seventy, He ordered them to heal the sick. In the great commission, the followers of Christ were urged to heal the sick. In observing Golden Cross Week we fulfill that part of our mission and carry out the law of our church. May the church rise to this beautiful task and do this Christ-like work and needed service. Join the Golden Cross and wear a button, and make an open door for the sick and suffering. Enroll either at the Church School or the Church Service hour May 14-21. J. Perry Drake, church director.

The sermon subject for 11 a. m. will be, "Giving Mother a Place," and at 7:30 p. m., "The Enemy of Christ." Children under 12 years, will meet Monday at 3:15 p. m. Mid-week service Wednesday, 7:30 p. m. Visitors welcome to all our services.—Andrew J. Boyles, Pastor.

—Dr. and Mrs. W. S. Speer have returned from San Antonio, Texas, where their daughter, Gladys, Mrs. Schreck, is under treatment at St. Rosa Hospital of that medical center. She was conveyed there from San Angelo, Texas, recently, and will be there for the summer, it was said. We are glad to learn of her improved condition.

—Mr. Kirk Meyer of New Orleans and Warren Jackson of Gulfport, both representing group insurance, spent Wednesday afternoon in Bay St. Louis in the interest of their agencies. Warren Jackson is widely known in this section and remembered as the manager of the late Mississippi Coast Club, a contributing factor to the success of the building of the Coast.

—John Buehler, local contractor and builder, who was taken to Hotel Dieu, at New Orleans, last week seriously ill, was reported on Wednesday of this week as showing improvement and the outlook for his rapid improvement encouraging. He was taken to the hospital for observation and subsequent treatment, ailing with a kidney involvement. Friends will be glad to learn of his improvement.

—A force of carpenters are at work screening the front porch of Hotel Reed and in such manner that is not only substantial but part of the architecture of the building. This will prove quite an improvement. Manager Felkins says management of the hotel has planned for many improvements which will be put in from time to time without inconveniencing the business or comfort of guests. The gardens are attractive and show marked improvements.

—Father of John Buehler, Bay St. Louis contractor and builder, Andrew Buehler, resident of Ocean Springs, died at New Orleans Saturday night following an illness. Remains were conveyed to Ocean Springs and funeral took place Monday afternoon from the residence of J. A. Fayard, residing in Government street of that city, with interment in Ocean Springs cemetery. The deceased was well and long known in that section of the Coast and his passing is deeply deplored.

—Contractor Horace Farr is completing quite a building as an up-story and addition to the garage building on the premises of Dr. M. J. Wolfe, Carroll avenue. Improvements are quite extensive and include servants living quarters, children's playroom and general recreational purpose. Dr. and Mrs. Wolfe's dwelling and grounds are outstanding, enhanced by a beautiful and well-kept garden and the new addition to the rear adds to the value and beauty of the place.

—A visitation of rainstorm Tuesday evening practically put every telephone in Waveland area of the local system out of commission. However, local chief H. D. Kirkpatrick was busy the next morning with a force of workmen and remedying the damage. The downpour came rather unexpectedly and fortunately was of comparative short duration. No damage was reported in Bay St. Louis. The breaking of an underground cable in Waveland by diggers in the soil also incapacitated many phones.

—City Commissioner H. Grady Perkins and Mr. E. E. Norwood of the firm of architects of Smith & Norwood, journeyed to Atlanta, Ga., Monday night where they went in official capacity, conferring with southern headquarters of PWA government project in the interest of extrajudicial action in the matter of the city building the proposed municipal recreational pavilion. It will be remembered our people voted on this proposition some time back and the matter has been held up. Commissioner Perkins says all difficulties have been smoothed and the road is now clear. This like the natural gas project, is one of the present administration's chief improvements for the city. And they are doing everything possible for its early realization.

—Friday night at Bay High auditorium Mrs. Carl Smith, music instructor of the school presented the pupils of the grammar grades in a play, Goldilocks and the Three Bears, before a large audience. The play was well staged and the costumes were excellent. Taking parts were: Goldilocks, Virginia Seal; Goldilocks' father, Gordon Bernos; Goldilocks' mother, Jane Wolfe; Mother Bear, Margalo Damborino; Father Bear, Jerry Felkins; Baby Bear, Martin Noto; Pan, Joy Durban Morgan. Selections were played by the Bay High Band, under direction of Prof. W. C. Morgan, and choruses and dances were provided by large groups of children in costume. After the play, the Junior-Senior prom dance for students of the high school was held with music furnished by Eldridge Helwick of Pass Christian.

—A forthcoming wedding of more than ordinary interest is the double event to take place June 25 at 2 p. m., in which the principles concerned are son and daughter respectively of our townspeople, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Heitzmann, of Bay St. Louis, who reside in Sycamore street. The designate contracting parties are Miss Lottie Mae Heitzmann to Mr. Bernard Joseph Younger, of West New Orleans, and Mr. Edward Heitzmann, Jr., to Miss Jean Crisler of New Orleans. Formal invitations will shortly be issued for the ceremony which will take place at the church of Our Lady of the Gulf. A reception will follow this double wedding at the spacious and beautiful premises of Uncle Charlie's nite club on the beach boulevard.

—The May Festival given by the Girls' Club of the Women's Benefit Association Thursday night of last week at Palmisano's Tavern, Ulman avenue, easily proved a most enjoyable affair. Miss Lottie Mae Heitzmann was crowned queen, this seasonable ceremony taking place outdoors adjoining the tavern. The place was elaborately and tastefully decorated with an abundance of natural flowers adding to the joyous atmosphere of the festivities. The usual court of maids and flower girls were in attendance. Miss Levia Engman took a moving picture of this enchanting scene.

—City Commissioner H. Grady Perkins was present at the district meeting of La-Miss. International Rotary in convention of which body he was guest. Mr. Perkins recently returned from Memphis where he spent several months in successful treatment for an impaired knee at the Hospital for Crippled Adults, which Rotary sponsors. Mr. Perkins benefited by the success of this institution and of the beneficence of Rotary through the instrumentality of Bay St. Louis Rotary Club, and his visit to the district convention was in acknowledgment and to give a living manifestation of the unusual work Dr. Campbell's institution is doing for crippled folks.

"MY MOTHER"

BELOVED Mother, now rests in peace,
It is not right for us to weep.
Her pain and suffering hard to see,
In God, the Father's Hand, she's free.
Her soul looks down on those she's left
And knows the pain, of those bereft.
She's with the loved ones gone before.
Thank God for her, her's pain no more.

TO BEAUTIFY CAPITOL GROUNDS.

Several months ago Secretary of State Walker Wood worked up a project for the beautification of the grounds at the New Capitol Building. Due to lack of funds for the proper maintenance and upkeep of the grounds during the years have not had the care and attention they should have. Mr. Wood submitted the project to the Works Progress Administration, and on April 29th he received telegrams from Senators Pat Harrison and Theo. G. Bilbo that the President had approved the project. The allotment made by the Government for the work is $3,836.00. Mr. Wood hopes to have the work under way within the next few days, or just as soon as he receives instructions from the state office of the Works Progress Administration to proceed.

Wholesale trade up in first quarter of the year over 1938; Hopkins reports a $200,000,000 gain.
